

Developing People for Work.

WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT LTD

Who we are & what we do

Kia ora koutou. Workforce Development Limited is a private education company that has been operating throughout New Zealand since 1992. We are a family-owned company that offers a 'family-based' style of delivery that grows confidence, capabilities, skills and knowledge within our learners. We have generations of students that have come through our doors, from aunts, uncles, cousins, mothers, fathers, sons and daughters; all because of the supportive way that our team work with our learners. We also have a highly customised approach to the training that we offer; one that takes into account the person as a whole. We factor in the commitments we all have of family, work, the challenges of life, and yes... the training and education that our learners seek to undertake with us. We offer classes in the evenings and the weekends, in addition to classes in the days. Our 'contact time' is a blend of class-time with highly trained and experienced tutors, self-directed learning at home, and work experience in the form of 'onsite industry practicums'. We also work directly with industry and our communities to understand what they need from our learners, and then 'map' that into our teaching curriculums. This provides clear 'programme pathways' and 'employment pipelines' for our students, and ensures that we truly are doing exactly what we say we are going to do – "develop people in/for/at work". Last but not, least, we have great teaching environments that are 'fit for purpose' and stimulate great teaching and learning so that you – our learners – are well-engaged with your training. After all, we are here to serve you, our learner. So, if you want to take the next step on your life's journey, let us enable you to do just that... call us today to find out more about what we can offer you. Naku noa na.
